ASSEMBLYMEN IN THIS COUNTY AND COLER BY PETITION.

Also a County Ticket-Reason Given That This Polley Will Get Out More Votes for the State Ticket -As to Congress and Senate No Decision.

The Greater New York Democracy decided last night to nominate the Coler ticket by petition and to nominate Assemlymen of its own in New York county. The question of putting up candidates for senate and Congress was referred to an advisory committee.

This decision was reached at a meeting held in Marcus Mayer's club at 1155 Broadway John C. Sheehan presided. President Cantor of the borough of Manhattan sat beside him. There was a full representation of the district leaders.

Mr. Sheehan called attention to what he styled the conditions existing in the State. It was very necessary, he said, that an effort be made by the Greater New York Democracy to bring out every Democratic ote in the State if they wanted to elect

Mr. Cantor offered a resolution indorsing the whole State ticket. This attitude had been taken previously at the luncheon given to the district leaders. The resolution pre-vailed without debate. A long discussion followed the suggestion

A long discussion followed the suggestion that the party should nominate the Coler ticket so that it might be on the ballot under the Greater New York Democracy's own emblem, the rooster. Two arguments were offered, that the party would thus preserve offered, that the party would thus preserve its identity and that more votes would be brought to the ticket by men who would not vote for the Tammany ticket. When this plan was agreed on the an-nouncement was made that the leaders, anticipating such action, had sent a corps of anticipating such action, had sent a corps of twenty-five men up the State vesterday afternoon with petitions to get the neces-sary signatures. To get on the ticket under the rooster the Greater New York Demoracy must file a petition with the Secretary

State on Saturday.
This petition must contain at least 6,000 This petition must contain at least 6,000 names and each county must be represented by not less than fifty names. Mr. Cantor said the men sent out were schooled in their business and would get the necessary signatures and have them at Albany by Friday noon. For the signatures to be secured in New York county petitions were issued to the district leaders last picht with instructions to get as many night with instructions to get as many

When this question had been disposed of Mr. Cantor asked what the attitude o the party was to be in the matter of inde-pendent nominations for the Supreme To this the answer was in favor f a complete ticket of their own for New York county. It was urged again that this would help the State ticket by drawing to the polls Democrats who wouldn't go there to cast a Tammany ballot

It was agreed to nominate a Greater New York Democracy candidate for As-sembly in each of the thirty-five districts, and the leaders were told to pick out their in the Third District. The Democratic conventions in the six Congress districts of Kings county were held last night. As the slate in each case, with the exception of the Third, had already been determined by the Willoughby street managers, little interest was taken in the proceedings.

By the reapportionment Kings county gets an additiona! Congressman. According to the way the districts are laid out, the Democrats will have a virtual walkover in the Second and Seventh, the former being composed of the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth and Eighteenth wards, and the latter of the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Tenth and Twelfth wards, and with normal Democratic majorities of about 6,000 and 10,000, respectively. Of the four remaining districts the Republicans should carry three, leaving one doubtful.

URGING AHEARN TO RUN.

Riordan, Nominated for Senate, Says Nobody Can Make Illin Withdraw.

The John F. Ahearn Association passed ip all regular business at its monthly meeting last night at 200 East Broadway to give the members a chance to say what they thought of Big Tom Foley and Battery Dan Finn for turning down the Senator in favor of Daniel J. Riordan at Saturday night's convention. There were plenty who were for forcing Senator Ahearn to run on an independent ticket and a dis-trict captain from Foley's Second Assembly district was there to tell them what Divver would do for them if he would only enter

Joe Edelson, the Republican nominee for the Senate two years ago, who withdrew in favor of Ahearn in the campaign, said the Senator owed it to the decent Demo-erats of the Tenth to run and that if he wouldn't the Fourth district D-mocratic vote ought to go to the Republican nominee. Finally Bernard Downing, Ahearn's secre-Finally Bernard Downing, Ahearn's secretary, prevailed on the meeting not to force the Senator's hand, promising that he would come to a decision within twenty-four hours that would please them. It was the talk after the meeting that the Tammany leaders would prevail on Riordan to withdraw rather than have Ahearn run as an independent. The Senator wouldn't say anything on that point. Riorden said nobody could make him withdraw. Big Tim Sullivan was doing a lot of sub-

M'GUIRE WROTE COAL PLANK, And He Attempts to Defend Government Ownership of the Mines.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 6.-Former Mayor James K. McGuire gave out a statement to-day in defence of the plank in the Democratic State platform declaring for the ownership of the coal mines. This plank was written by him. He said:

"Before I wrote the plank I consulted a very able New York lawyer, who advised me that there was no doubt as to the constitutionality of the measure. It is ridiculous to say that the nation must freeze to death. I claim that the Government would run the mines as economically and as honestly as it runs the Post Office Departmant. The cost of coal in Syracuse would be under $5 a ton, as there would be no dividends to declare. All of us believe in municipal ownership of water. Why not of coal? The failure of the President to settle the strike is just what every ob-server of the strike expected. If neither side will yield, must the people freeze? If the coal miners cannot get along with their men, should they not get out of the business and let the Government take it up, after just compensation for their prop-erty? Government operation of mines in Germany has been successful and the there would not return to the old

THE REJECTED NOMINATIONS. Twee a Registered Letter That Raised

Hob With Long Island Democrats. The Democratic leaders of Queens, Nassau and Suffolk counties decided yesterday to go to court to-day and try to compel the Secretary of State to file the nominations of Townsend Scudder for Congress and Luke Keenan for State Senator. These are two of the nominations which failed to get to Albany in time for filing on Saturday, the last day allowed under the law. It appears that the filing of the nominations was intrusted to Henry Mertens, a clerk in Borough President Cassidy's office. Surrogate Daniel Noble advised Mertens to have the letter registered, and he did so. The registration occurred at 10:20 Saturday morning. If it had been an ordinary letter it would have started on its journey within an hour, but registered mail matter leaves the Long Island City Post Office for Manhattan only twice a day, at 8 A. M.

Surrogate Noble yesterday afternoon got Mertens to make affidavit to the facts, and, armed with this, he will appear before Jus-tice Gaynor this morning and ask for an order requiring the Secretary of State to accept the nominations.

LIBERAL DEMOCRATS HALT THIS SIDE OF PROFANITY.

Judge Seabury Suggests That Hill Should Resume That Stillness Devery Immaculate in Comparison, Says Ryder -Mr. Coler a Vacillatory Puppet

Each of the speakers at the mass meeting of the Liberal Democrats at Cooper Union last night tried to outdo the others in the bitter things he said about David B Hill and Bird S. Coler. When the last man was called to the front he remarked that there wasn't anything left for him to say unless he got profane.

The Liberal Democrats had a crowd of respectable size. Judge Samuel Seabury presided and made the first speech. He read Senator Hill's famous letter to the late Hamilton Ward-"I am still a Democrat-very still," and added: "We say that this very still Democrat of 1893 should continue very still in the politics of New York State.

Hill, he said, had put a rubbish plank in the platform in favor of the governmental ownership of coal mines, but was himself the attorney for thirty-five franchise grabbing corporations who tried to have the Franchise Tax law declared unconstitutional.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 6 .- Senator Marcus A. Hanna to-day began his political our, having held a meeting at Steubenville, Ohio, this afternoon, and one here to-night, both of which were largely at tended. The Senator said here:

"Two years ago I suggested to the people that in view of the prosperous times they knew their business. They replied that they did. One year ago I suggested that they 'leave well enough alone;' they replied that they would. This year I suggest that they 'stand pat,' and they will reply "The Democrats have a circus; that's

I am convinced that the voters are satisfied to leave well enough voters are satisfied to leave alone and that all they need is the bugle alone and that all they need is the bugle. The alone and that all they need is the bugle call of duty to rouse them to action. The only possible way the Republican party can be defeated this fall is for the Republicans to become overconfident and stay away from the polls. That is a responsibility which you alone must bear. Your neighbors' shoulders, no matter how broad they may be, are not sufficiently broad to bear election.

"If the House of Representatives goes Democratic this fall President Roosevelt will be unable to inaugurate or carry out any of the policies advocated by the Republican party. There's no need to expatiate on what would happen. A memory of the times when the mills about here were silent and thousands of people walked the streets in search of employment should be sufficient. "I would not want a better monument to the memory of William McKinley than to have the people of this State go to the polls and by voting the Republican ticket indicate their desire to have the policies inaugurated by him carried out.
"One thing William McKinley advocated was that all our obligations, direct and im-plied, with Cuba should be carried out." The Senator declared against tariff re vision and in discussing the coal strike favored the miners. He also talked on the capital and labor question

DR. MORRIS J. ASCH DEAD. Once Personal Physician of Gen. Sheridan -A Noted Specialist.

Dr. Morris J. Asch, who died on Sunday at Irvington, had been for thirty years a well-known practitioner in this city and was one of the first noted specialists in diseases of the throat and nose. Two years ago he suffered from a stroke of apoplexy and gave up all practice. He closed his house at 5 West Thirtieth street, and, although he spent much of his time out of the city, he retained an office at 28 West Fifty-fifth street. He went to Irvington in May.

Dr. Asch was born 70 years ago and was graduated in 1855 from the Jefferson Medical College. He volunteered as a surgeon at the outbreak of the Civil War and was attached to Gen. Sheridan's staff. Later he became his personal physician and served with him throughout the war. In the early 70s he came to New York to practise. His patients in this city included many eminent men.

He was the first to perform an operation now in general use in the hospitals, and it is called by his name. He was a popular sportsman, and a member of a number of city clubs, among which were the Union. University, the New York Yacht and the Century. He was for some years fleet sur-geon of the New York Yacht Club. He was at one time the owner of the best dachshunds exhibited in the New York shows, and for several years his dogs al-ways carried off the first prize.

He was also a member of the County Medical Society, the Academy of Medi-cine, the Medical and Surgical Society and American Laryngological Association He had been for some years attached to the staff of the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary and of the throat department of the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital. He Obituary Notes. Flags on the Hamburg-American Line piers and steamships were at half-mast yesterday for Capt. He was in command of the steamship Zimbria when war was expected to be declared between England and Russia. liner from the company. A Russian crew liner from the company. A Russian crew was placed on the Zimbria, and Capt. Badenhausen received sealed orders which were not opened until he was three days at sea. He then learned that he was expected to remain off the coast of Massachusetts until he received further orders. He did this for five months, when he was ordered to proceed to Hamburg. It was afterward said that the Russians were kept on the Zimbria so that, in the event of war being declared, they could be landed in this country to man the war vessels which the Russian Government was having built here. Capt. Badenhausen was decorated with the Order of the Cross by Nicholas II. for this service. In 1872 he rescued the crew of a disabled American schooner at sea and received from the American Government a diamond-studded gold watch, which was afterward stolen. The police recovered it after a search that lasted five years. A widow and a family of five grown children survive him. Mrs. Badenhausen is returning from a trip abroad on the Hamburg-American liner Graf Waldersee, and will not learn of his death until the ship reaches port.

Mrs. Eva Devoe, the East Syracuse centenarian, died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mary J. DeGraff. She retained all her faculties up to the day of her death. Mrs. Devoe celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of her birth on June 7. She was born in Kotterdam, Schenetady county, in 1802. Her intellectual powers were marvelous for her advanced age. She sewed without her glasses and worked a little in her garden every day.

The PIANOLA.

HE popularity of the Pianola extends to every corner of the globe, and the instrument is endorsed by every musician of prominence.

A great many people are gifted with keen musical temperaments, but find it difficult to acquire the technique or key-striking part of pianoforte playing. To them the PIANOLA is a source of infinite pleasure.

The PIANOLA enables any one to render with inimitable technique all the pianoforte literature of the world, and is in that respect greater than the finest musician. The performer need not have ever played a scale or chord or learned a note of music.

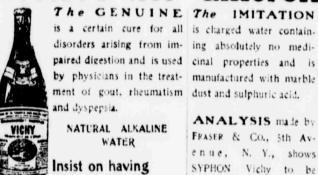

The beauty of music lies in the individuality of expression, which the temperament of the player dictates. With the PIANOLA that is one's sole aim. The technique is always correct. The Pianola gives one a perfect and complete control over time, accent and expression-all those qualities which make up the distinction between human and mechanical playing.

> The Cost of the PIANOLA is $250. Purchasable by monthly payments if desired.
